planted to-day, Magnolias and privet hedges have been planted throughout the grounds, but the most striking feature of the gardener's art is the wire fence, covered with honey-spekle. This fence is eight feet in height, and at a distance his the appearance of a hedge of vivid green. Crimson ramblers and the trumpet flowers, almost typically Virginian, have been mingled with the honey-spekle, and when these are in plossom the hedge will be a thing of wonderful beauty.

Buildings on Warpath

Soon to Be Ready.

The backwardness of the work on the Warpath tends to give to the exposition an air of unreadmess which rather exaggerates the situation. The buildings on the Warpath will not be exposition and can be completed in a few weeks, but naturally enough, the concessionaires did not want to go ahead spending good money before they knew whether the exposition would be actually opened, or would he on a scale justifying the investment of the money they proposed to put into their various schemes.

It is also said that many of the concessionaires did not care to open too soon, not expecting to make much money the first month or so.

The government buildings are not only complete, but the exhibits are installed. Colonel Geddes, who has been in charge of the government exhibit as secretary of the board appointed by the Jamestown Tercentenary Commission, said to-day that the buildings and the exhibits would be absolutely ready for public inspection on Friday.

"That there is not water in which to install the fisheries exhibit is not the fault of the government, but of the exposition company," said Colonel Geddes to-day. "I, think we have made phenomenal progress in the construction of the building, and I want to say that the exhibits of the government at the Jamestown Exposition will equal, and in some respects surpass, those which it has sent to any other exposition."

Colonel Geddes has been in charge of government exhibits at all the expositions held of late years.

NORFOLK, VA., April 24.—The first of the foreign war-ships which will participate in the great naval rendezvous incident upon the opening of the Jamestown Exposition have arrived in Hampton Roads. Early this morning the battleship Roon and the cruiser Bremen, of the Imperial German Navy, steamed in, the Roon, from the West Indies, and the Bremen from the West Indies, and the Bremen from the Capes, having gone there from Newport News to await the arrival of the battleship.

As they came within saluting distance of the American fleet they boomed out a salute, which was answered by the battleship Connecticut, Admiral Evans's flagship, and took the stations which they will occupy during the rendezvous.

Shortly after the arrival of the Roon and the Bremen, the cruiser Presidente Sarmiente of the Argentine Navy, came the rendezvous.

Shortly after the arrival of the Room and the Bremen, the cruiser Presidente Sarmiente, of the Argentine Navy, came into the Roads from Chesapeake Bay having left Annapolis after a visit to the United States Naval Academy. Immediately upon her arrival she fired salutes to the German and American fleets, which were returned by the flagships. Her anchorage is near that of the Room and Bremen.

The English squadron, under Admiral Neville, left Bermuda yesierday, and is expected to arrive in Hampton Roads some time to-morrow.

The fleet of American and foreign war-ships as they lie at anchor in the Roads will present a most magnificent sight. They will be formed in two parade columns, one formed of the six teen powerful battleships of the American Navy, and the other of the United States cruisers St. Louis, Tennessee, and Washington, the foreign battleships and cruisers and the torpedo flotillas and cruisers and the torpedo flotillas and auxiliaries of the United States cruisers from the two columns are anchored the battleaship Texas and the cruiser Brooklyn, famous for the part they played in the battle of Santiago, and the monitors Canonicus and Miantonomah.

NORFOLK, VA., April 24 .-- C. Brooks Johnston, chairman of the governing board of the Jamestown Exposition, in view of the impossibility of opening the exposition Friday as a completed show, made the following state-pleted show, made the following statement, explaining the situation, tonight:

"While it is, of course, a source of some disappointment to the management that it is not possible to present on April 26th a completed exposition, yet we shall view with a great degree of satisfaction the results which will then be in evidence.

"We wish to be fair with the public, as we shall hope it will be with us, and i desire, therefore, to authorize the unqualified statement that we expect within two weeks of the opening, and certainity by the 15th of May with favorable weather, the exposition will be all that was expected or has been promised.

LABOR LEADERS ARRAIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

CHARLES H. MOYER.

Charles H. Moyer and William D. Haywood, with George A. Pettibone, were charged with conspiracy to murder, brought in connection with the assassination of Frank Steunenberg, a former Governor of Idaho. Moyer was president, Haywood the secretary-treasurer, and Pettibone was a member of the executive committee of the Western Federation of Miners. It was claimed that he federation was bitterly against Steunenberg, and Idaho authorities alleged that it had financed the scheme to murder him. The case is expected to be brought to court within a short time.

LABOR UNIONS INDIGNANT OVER ROOSEVELT'S LETTER

Meetings to be Held to Formally Protest Against His Attitude Toward Moyer and Haywood --- "President Has Russian Blood in His Veins," Says Ardent Union Man.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., April 24.--A movement, national in scope, to set early in May on which day every union in the country is to protest against the action of President Roosevelt in denouncing the Western miners before they have been tried, was started to-day in Milwaukee. The plan is to have labor leaders in every city in the country agree on a day on which demonstrations shall be arranged, and not only the President taken to task for his utterances in his recent letter, but more especially 'his communication to Honore Jaxon, of Chicago, in which he reiterates his criticism.

"Whereas, His Excellency, Theodore Rosesveit, President of the United States, in a recent interview is reported to have denounced Charles H. Moyer and William D. IDLE RUMORS SET AT REST

Mr. Lancaster Williams Says Power-Houses Have an Abundant Current.

[Special From a Staff Correspondent.]
JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, April 24.-A succession of evil rumors stirred up the officials of the exposition to-day. It was declared that here would be no lights in the grounds; that there would be no water; that Inside Inn, the official residence of the visiting inn, the official residence of the visiting Governors, would not be opened. Consternation religned, and the officials were kept busy answering hundreds of telegrams and telephone calls from those who had planned to be present on opening day. It later developed that none of the rumors was true, for there is an abundance of water within the grounds; the lights, according to Director Myers, will burn brightly, and Inside Inn is today receiving guests, and has its 2,000 rooms ready for those who have booked accommodations.

Virginia Building Complete. Possibly the most complete building within the grounds, not even excepting the government buildings, is the Virginia the government buildings, is to only completely furnished with rare old furniture, but has the added charm which only the touch of a woman's hand could give it. It is assured that there will be ample ight for the reception at the Virginia. Building to-morrow night, no matter what the result will be otherwise, what the result will be otherwise.

In the receiving party will be Governor and Mrs. Swanson, the visiting Governors of other States, the ranking officers of the army and navy, Lleutenant-Governor J. Taylor Ellyson, President and Mrs. Harry St. Gorge Tucker, Mrs. Lucy Preston Beale.

Pleasty of Light

Plenty of Light.

Pienty of Light.

In speaking of the matter this morning. Barton Myers, governor of ways and means and of exploitation, denied the report that the electricity would not be ready for use on the opening night. He stated that there had been some cause for uneasiness in this direction through the fallure of the Old Forming needs to delive of the Old Dominion people to deliver the blower promptly, but as the piece of machinery has now arrive piece of machinery has now arrived at the Exposition Grounds, it will require but a short while to Install it and turn on the current.

The lights in the Anditorium, the large exhibit buildings and many of the State buildings will be turned on and some of the concessionaires on the War-Path, whose places are completed will also be taken care of. The large new Cunvention Hall which is under new Cunvention Hall which is under will also be taken care of. The large new Convention Hall, which is under construction, will be lighted by four arc lights, two of which have alread, been placed in position and tested. If this plan, as now proposed, is carried out, the cherus on the opening night will not be interfered with, and will be heard according to the program. It is heard according to the program. It is stated, though, that the Washington Choral Society will not take part in these choruses, and will not sing at the exposition until May 13th.

Every effort will be made to have the Exposition Grounds brilliantly illuminated on the opening night, and it is the expressed opinion of the governors that they will be.

the expressed opinion of the governors that they will be.

No Cause for Alarm.

I Mr. R. Lancaster Williams, president of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Traction Company, said to-day that there had evidenly been some misunderstanding in regard to the lights and electric car service for the exposition.

There is, he said, abundant current to meet every demand made upon the power-houses of his company for the exposition and for the electric street car service.

The new power-house is turning out to-day 7,000-horse power and is prepared to give the exposition 5,000 K. W., all in addition to the power given by the old power-houses.

The new power-house is new also supplying 2,000-horse power for purposes other than those required by the exposition.

"We are prepared to furnish the exposition the full amount of current contracted for," said Mr. Williams. "The trouble at the auditorium is not because of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Company being unprepared to deliver the power, but because the exposition company is not ready to receive it."

NORFOLK, VA. April 24.—"Will the Jamestown Exposition Grounds be dry?" is the question now worrying the nine-toen exposition concessionaries who have made applications for 'liquor' licenses. The applications must come under the provisions of the Mann law, which requires that a petition in fuvor of a license be signed by a majority of the qualified voters of the district in which such licenses, as asked. The concessionaries are in fear that they will not receive the licenses.

The district is a country one and no Ticense sentiment seems to prevail in it.
